WE HELPED DISTRESSED SOMETHING OF LIFE OF PROMINENT MAN

Charles Richardson of Hilo Young Man When He Touched at Islands--Leaves Big Estate.

Charles Richardson, the Hilo kamahala, the sad news of whose death came by wireless telegraph Saturday, was well known not only in one town of his adoption, but in Honolulu, and, in fact, all over the Hawaiian Islands. Deceased was about 75 years of age at the time of his death and for several years had been suffering from asthma and an affection of the spleen. Several times during the last two or three years his life was despaired of, but his splendid constitution came to his aid in a wonderful manner and he was able to stem the tide.

However, each one of these illnesses was a severe drain, and the final attack left him in a favorable condition for the dread call of death.

Charles Richardson numbered among his friends in Hilo and throughout the Islands the most influential men of each community, and among the Hawaiians particularly he was much beloved on account of his many deeds of kindness, unheralded to the world, yet all the more effective for that very reason. His was a kindly heart, he had seen the worst of hard times, and into his heart there crept and remained that most praiseworthy attribute of appreciation of the hardships of others which ever moved him toward an amelioration of the troubles of others, whether white or brown.

Charles Richardson came to Honolulu as a very young man, traveling away from his home in the State of Vermont to the Atlantic seaboard and thence around the horn to these islands of the Pacific which he had since that time called his home.

He was a ship's carpenter and, settling down in Hilo, he plied his trade, saving up his money, daily becoming an good terms with the people. He then came to Honolulu for a time, but finding Hilo to be more to his liking, returned there. He then married a Hawaiian lady of good family known to the natives as Akana and whose sisters are Mrs. Jules Richardson of Hilo and Mrs. August Ahrens of Oahu plantation, and started in on the sugar business at Waialeale.

Having amassed a small fortune, he purchased Kapaeha, a ranch, now the property of C. Brewer & Co., and remained there until the late seventies, when he sold out and returned to Hilo, there to enter into the lumber business. In this work he continued until five or six years ago, when, on account of ill health, he retired, selling out to the Hilo Mercantile Company.

Deceased leaves two daughters--Miss Evelyn Richardson, who was educated on the mainland, whither she journeyed with her aunt when but eight years of age, returning only a few years ago, and Mrs. Wakefield. Both these ladies are residents of Hilo and were together with the sorrowing widow at the bedside of the loving parent and husband at the time of his death, at Hilo, at 7:30 a. m., Saturday, July 5.

Deceased leaves a vast estate, consisting of real estates, shares in sugar plantations and the like. The executor named in the will are Messrs. C. C. Kennedy and Sutton of Hilo and August Ahrens, manager of Oahu plantation. Mr. Ahrens is now awaiting a wireless to determine whether or no he shall depart in the Kinau for Hilo tomorrow.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

There were twenty-three cases of drunkenness in the Police Court this morning, showing that the Fourth of July and Saturday, the 5th, are bad dates to run together in such close proximity, particularly when the Fourth of July falls on Friday. In each case, the fine was as usual, but in three very bad cases, the fine was $6 and costs.

Kolopapela, the man who disturbed a lady of his own race in her rights of taro patch, and who W. O. Smith says is not in full control of the gray matter in his thinking apparatus, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at hard labor on the charge of vagrancy.

Raymond Dorry was sentenced to two months' imprisonment at hard labor on the charge of vagrancy, and Miamoto and Hioiki two Japanese charged with having assaulted an old man with a dangerous weapon, had their cases nolle prosequi on account of the non-appearance of the complaining witness.

HUNTERS DOWN ROAD

WAIKUA AND HONOLULU HEARS BANG OF GUNS

One Man Shoots 94 Birds and Another 68--All Hands Had a Fine Time.

There were in the neighborhood of a dozen jolly hunters who went down the road yesterday to take advantage of the splendid dove hunting that is to be found anywhere along the O. R. & L. Co.'s line down the road from Aiea to Kahuku. The hunters were all lunched up in the baggage car ahead in order to take care of their dogs. This crowd was a sight to see when it started out from Honolulu but the he-dragged, gore bespattered, red-faced, hand scratched and withal, happy, hunters that returned in the afternoon train was hardly recognizable.

Six of the crowd left the train at Waiau and went up into the freshly cut rice fields nearby. Two more dropped off at Pearl City and four waited until they had arrived at Honolulu.

The O. R. & L. Co.'s trains, right on time as usual, landed the hunters at their respective places in plenty of time to begin the good work early.

The six hunters at Waiau secured the banner bag of the day, killing in all about 220 doves or an average of about 35 apiece. One of the number killed 94 birds. To show that these six hunters were earnest in their work, it might be mentioned that, with the exception of one man, every mother's son of them was hit by shot from the guns of the others. Fortunately there was no serious injury done beyond the net of sitting down rather uncomfortable for one of the hunters.

The two who alighted at Pearl City got about 30 birds between them while the four who got out at Honolulu got 125 between them, the best individual bag being 68, the second 31 and the third 22.

The hunters at Waiau got soaked to the skin by means of a heavy shower that lasted a full quarter of an hour. The other hunters got nothing but the hottest kind of sunlight.

The hunting on the outskirts of the city is very bad this year and many of the young men who have gone out during the past week are at a loss to know the reason why since in former years there has always been fine hunting, twenty and thirty birds an afternoon being nothing unusual.

The reason very probably lies in the fact that the Chinese of the rice plantations have been purchasing shotguns and slaughtering the birds in the off season. It is likewise known that boys have been in the habit of robbing the nests of doves and of even trapping them while setting.

A man connected with one of the hardware stores of the city said in a Bulletin reporter today: "We sell just as much ammunition to Chinese during the off as during the open season and I have seen these very men shooting at doves in the off season. There is a law against such work as this and the hunters of the city should get together and do something to prevent this kind of thing. It is a shame and should be put a stop to. Very soon, there will be no more hunting on the island. It is bad enough now."

OLAA REPUBLICANS

Hilo, July 5.--The second meeting of the Olaa Republican Club was held at its rooms in Olaa Friday evening, June 27th, B. F. McStocker in the chair.

The principal business of the evening was the election of permanent officers and resulted in the following members being chosen after a spirited contest: President, S. G. Walker; first vice president, Wm. A. Ward; second vice president, F. J. Williams; secretary, A. G. Curtis; assistant secretary, Carl Giddings; treasurer, Henry Gerlach; executive committee, Geo. Pratt, J. G. Armstrong, P. C. Dorlan, J. Kelley, A. E. Minville; judges of election, J. W. Thomas, John Hamilton, J. E. Tulloch.

A pleasing feature of the evening was a campaign song by Captain Kelly and a stump speech from President Walker.

A number of natives were present and took a lively interest in the proceedings. It is very encouraging when such prominent Hawaiians as D. Moku, Kaluna, Joseph Kokala and Moses Naia walk up and sign the Republican role.

George Paty, at Eleven Miles, will probably be the Club's choice to represent this district in the next Legislature.--Tribune.

THE REAL ARTICLE. Here is one of Secretary Shaw's stories. "A friend of mine," said the secretary, "gave dinner once to some rural gentlemen from Iowa. He furnished them the best of everything, terrapin and canvasback duck. The climax of the feast was a watermelon into which had been emptied two quarts of champagne. When the farmers began to eat the watermelon they smiled and smacked their lips and ate again. Then, of one accord, they slipped into their pockets a handful of the seeds. They wanted to raise some of the same kind of melons on their own farms."
